

The Scrap Book

A Large Miss.

A coterie known as the Constitution club makes a cruise almost every summer with Commodore Perry of the Chicago Yacht club.

A season or two ago, so the story goes, the yacht was leaving a pier at a Lake Michigan summer colony, where the party had been hand-somely entertained, and it was decided to fire a salute.

BLEW TWO PLANKS OUT.

Campbell Cummings, one of the party, immediately announced he probably was the best artillerist present and loaded the small brass signal gun the yacht carried. Before firing the piece, however, he forgot to elevate the muzzle, with the result the heavy charge blew two planks out of the deck and narrowly missed exploding the gasoline tanks of the auxiliary engine.

Commodore Perry, after inspecting the damage, approached Cummings and shook hands with him warmly.

"Campbell," he said, "allow me to congratulate you. You had all of Lake Michigan to shoot at, and that's the biggest mark I ever saw any miss. But you did it."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Helpfulness.

If I can stop one heart from breaking
I shall not live in vain.
If I can ease one life the aching,
Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Into his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.
—Emily Dickinson.

Enlarging Her Part.

George M. Cohan, the widely known comedian, engaged a young woman for one of his productions whose ambition excelled her abilities. One morning she went to Mr. Cohan.

"I have only one line in the first act, Mr. Cohan," said she, "and but one in the second. Couldn't you give me a line for the third act also?"

Mr. Cohan thought for a moment of all the trouble the girl had caused him and of the exalted opinion she had of her poor acting.

"Well, yes," replied Mr. Cohan. "During the banquet scene in the third act you may enter and say, 'Here is a ham.'"

"Oh!" she exclaimed. "And do I bring a ham on the stage with me?"

"No," answered Mr. Cohan; "it is not a speech; it is a confession, my dear."
—Kansas City Star.

Depew's Great Speech.

"When I was a very young man," Senator Depew once related, "I went out to make a political speech with some older men one night. They wanted something red hot, and I handed it out.

"I just turned myself to skin the opposition, and, on the whole, the audience seemed to like it. The more they cheered the more I warmed to it. I was immensely pleased with my success. But after I got home I was worried. I had roasted the other side awfully. I lay awake wondering if it wouldn't react and injure our side more than the opposition.

"Then I bethought of some personal allusions I had made that might easily be construed as libelous. I got a good deal excited and slept very little. In the morning I hurried down to see whether the papers had roasted me. The meeting was reported all over the front page. I plunged into it, shivering in nervousness. But I needn't have worried. What it said about my speech was in the last two lines:

"A young man named Depew also spoke."

Nonroyal Headgear.

One of the attaches of the American embassy at London once told a story wherein Michael Joseph Barry, the poet, who was appointed a police magistrate in Dublin, was the principal figure. There was brought before him an Irish American charged with suspicious conduct. The officer making the arrest stated, among other things, that the culprit was wearing a "Republican hat."

"Does your honor know what that means?" was the inquiry put to the court by the accused's lawyer.

"It may be," suggested Barry, "that it means a hat without a crown."

She Loved His Tomb.

An immensely wealthy widow who gave yearly hundreds of thousands to charity decided personally to inspect some individual cases of deserving poverty herself. One of her agents brought before her a poorly clad woman, saying:

"Here is a poor old woman, a very decent sort of person. Her husband used to go about with a dancing bear. This creature, though usually very tame and gentle, one day threw itself on its master and ate him up."

"Alas, my good sir," the old woman broke in, "since that moment the poor beast and myself have been without a home!"

"What! The beast?" asked the wealthy woman. "Is it the same that devoured your husband?"

"Alas, my good lady, it is all that is left to me of the dear lamented one."—New York Herald.

Porker Dishes.

BAKED HAM.—Wash the ham well. Then cover it with cold water and soak it for twenty-four hours. Make a thick paste with flour and water only. Wipe the ham dry and cover the flesh side with this paste or dough. Place in a baking pan with the skin side down. Put a quart of sherry wine in the pan and bake until done. Take off the crust and peel off the skin. Trim off the fat, leaving about half an inch on the ham. Pour half a cupful of sherry wine over it and cover with a dressing of one cupful of rolled crackers, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of celery seed, one-half teaspoonful of ground cinnamon and a pinch of cayenne pepper. Return to the oven and bake until thoroughly done.

BROILED BACON.—Have the bacon cut in very thin and even slices and place on the wires of a double broiler. Close broiler and set same into an oven of moderate heat, with a dripping pan under the broiler. Cook until the bacon is a delicate brown and crisp.

SCRAPPLE.—Materials—One small hog's head, five quarts cold water, one teaspoonful powdered sage, salt and pepper, yellow cornmeal. Utensils—Large kettle, cup, knife, spoon, bowl, tin. Directions—Cut head in halves, remove eyes and brains, scrape and thoroughly clean. Put head in large kettle, cover with the water, simmer gently two or three hours, or until the meat falls from the bones. Skim the grease from the surface carefully; remove meat, chop fine and return it to liquor; season with sage and some salt and pepper. Sift in cornmeal until it is the consistency of soft mush; stir constantly. Cook slowly one hour, watching carefully, as it seethes easily. Taste to see if salt is right. Pour into greased oblong tin and cool. Cut in thin slices and fry crisp and brown.

Two Sinners.

"It is very wrong to tell a falsehood," said his mother to little Jimmie, whom she had caught in one.

"Then we're both awful sinners, ain't we, maw?" queried Jimmie.

"Both! What do you mean?"

"Why, you told Mrs. Smith yesterday that you hoped she'd call again, and after she wuz gone you said you wished she'd never come again."

REMEMBER Peru-na

When You Call At Our Drug Store

Mr. Robert H. Norris, No. 1223 Henry St., North Berkeley, Cal., writes: "We have never had any other medicine but Peru-na in our home since we have been married. I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble, but two months treatment with Peru-na made me a well and strong man. My wife felt weak and was easily tired and was also troubled with various pains, but since she took Peru-na she is well and strong."

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the below named druggists are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just the same as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador of "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, Saint Paul, Minn.
